ATMOSPHERE

The one thing about the WORTH store that is distinctive is its Atmosphere.

When you debate with yourself as to where you should go to buy, several points have weight.

There are the Prices. There is the Location of the shop. There are the Quality and Dependability of the goods. And there is the Atmosphere of the place.

And the greatest of these is Atmosphere.

Atmosphere is made up of many little influences. It is quite easily recognized, attracts or repels sharply, yet it is hard to define.

It involves the Courtesy of the salespeople.
 Their Frankness and Promptness.
 Their interest in you.
 Their Intelligence.

And the general feeling you receive, the impression that you are being fairly dealt with, that you are being told the exact truth, that the Goods you buy are really Worth what you pay, and that you could not get better values by going elsewhere.

The salespeople are well paid, are interested in their work, are courteous and hence a delight to deal with.

This is the Atmosphere at WORTH'S.

AMERICAN POLICY IN RUSSIA TOLD BY HEAD OF ARMY

Gen. Graves Says There is to Be No Interference With Political Matters.

VLADIVOSTOK, Siberia, April 20 (Associated Press).—Major Gen. William S. Graves, commander of the American expeditionary forces in Siberia, has issued a message to his troops in which he says the American policy in Russia is the same to-day as when the Washington government issued its proclamation at the time of the sending of the American forces to Siberia.

The message is entitled, "Our Duty in Siberia." In it Major Gen. Graves says:

"The policy to be followed by our troops in any country is one to be determined by the Executive.

"It was clearly announced in the most public and solemn manner that the United States did not contemplate any interference of any kind with the political sovereignty of Russia, any intervention in her internal affairs or any impairment of her territorial integrity.

"The United States does not intend to permit any of its agents to interfere with the sovereign rights of the Russian people. Our aim has been to carry out to the letter the policy of our Government. There has been no interference in the internal affairs of the Russian people, and no action has been taken by the United States troops which could justly be said was taking sides in the differences of the opinions of the factions.

"We must all realize that every nation has its own ideals and traditions which should be respected by all and especially by guests, as we are. It is hoped that every citizen of the United States in Siberia, and especially those wearing the United States military uniform, will constantly keep in mind these facts and fully respect not only the laws, but the customs and traditions of the people.

"In any body of men as large as the American Expeditionary Force, unfortunately, there will always be found individuals who will act so as to bring discredit to their countrymen. This expedition has been no exception to this general rule. This fact, however, should cause all of us to so conduct ourselves that the Russian people will realize that the United States soldier is a man of good habits, self-respecting and honorable.
